Newspaper On Nantucket Sold To Isle Residents

MARCH 1970

NANTUCKET, (AP) — The Inquirer and Mirror, a weekly newspaper that has been published on this island since 1837, has been sold to a group of island residents.

Terms of the purchase, announced Thursday, were not disclosed.

The newspaper was purchased from the estate of the late George W. Morgan by Mrs. Marie Griggin, George A. Snell and Albert F. Egna, Jr.

The paper has a circulation of about 4,000 during the winter and 10,000 during the summer.

It is also distributed throughout the United States and some foreign countries by mail.

Whale-Size Nantucket Newspaper Cuts Down

June 1-1969

NANTUCKET. (AP) — The famed whale-size edition of the weekly Inquirer and Mirror was harpooned by progress this week.

The 150-year-old publication came out in standard newspaper size Thursday night.

Islanders and tourists alike had mixed reactions as they looked over first editions while seated on the benches along cobblestoned Main St.

"I think its fine, now I won't have to spread it over the kitchen table to read it all," said Mrs. Kay Riles, cashier in a local restaurant.

"We are losing something of the flavor of old Nantucket and I don't like it," said newsdealer Lester Proctor.

Proctor had to make an extra fold in the Nantucket weekly to make it fit in the same rack with "off island" city papers.

The "Inky Mirror" or "The Blanket" as it was dubbed by islanders, opened up to a sheet five feet wide.

Veteran editor Edouard A. Stackpole was salty and tart at the way "history and tradition is being lost."

However, Stackpole said in an editorial "With this edition The Inquirer and Mirror embarks on another journalistic voyage . . . it is to be hoped that the passage of time will bring about an acceptance of the new without losing the memory of the old."

This has been the modern story of Nantucket, an island only 15 miles long shaped like a sailor's hammock slung 25 miles off the southern Massachusetts coast.

Islanders are trying to preserve their heritage as the one-time whaling capital of the world yet accommodate a summer invasion that jumps the population from 4,000 to 25,000 almost overnight.

"No bare feet allowed" signs have popped up in store windows and restaurants all over town to forestall an annual hippy invasion. Newly enforced fire laws have ruled out many low-cost rooms once available to college girl waitresses and boy surfers.

The facts of economic life caught up with the Inquirer and Mirror says publisher George W. Morgan. The 75-year-old flatbed press that formerly clanked out "The Blanket" every week required special, high quality, large size paper that was soaring in cost and hard to obtain.

The new Goss rotary press can print the 6,000-copy edition with one roll of standard size newsprint.

Editor Stackpole, a world authority on whaling and former curator of Mystic Seaport, Mystic, Conn., has readers in all 50 states and a dozen foreign countries including Pakistan and Afghanistan. A New York suscriber claims the fun of opening the huge paper on a crowded subway is worth several times the subscription.

Various kinks had to be untangled before the new edition rolled off the press before a modest audience of islanders at the gray-shingled publishing plant last night. Earlier in the day a plane was chartered to fly in some special ink from a weekly on Cape Cod.

Michael DeMontaigne of the Goss Co. said there seemed to be a reaction from the island water needed in the process of offset printing.

Irving Stanley, compositor and assistant editor who sometimes writes his column directly on a linotype machine, said the island water probably affected the new press much like the salty bayberry-scented island air affects visitors from "the States."

"People come out here from the city and feel tired. You know it takes a few days to get used to breathing air without pollution."

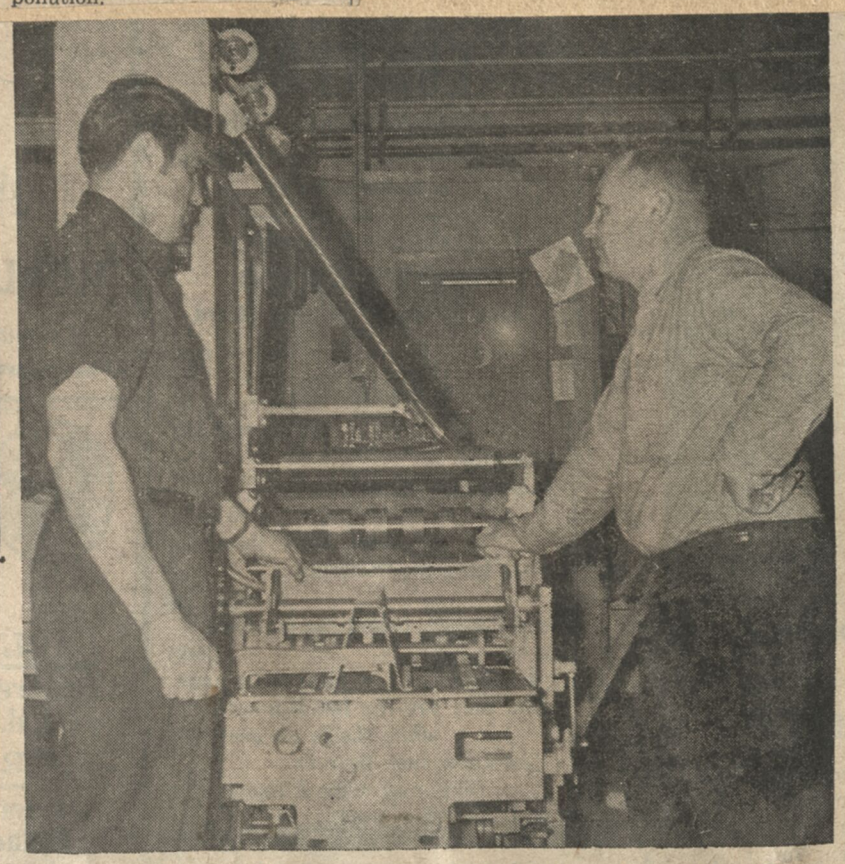
New Goss Press Now Installed at I. & M.

The new Goss Community Press has been installed in the press room of The Inquirer and Mirror, and Charles Kwaitkowski, the young engineer of the company, completed his work early this week. As a necessary adjunct, the new dark room, for the camera and equipment for processing the plates, will now be the next step in the eventual transfer to the off-set process for printing the newspaper as a replacement of the present letter-press method.

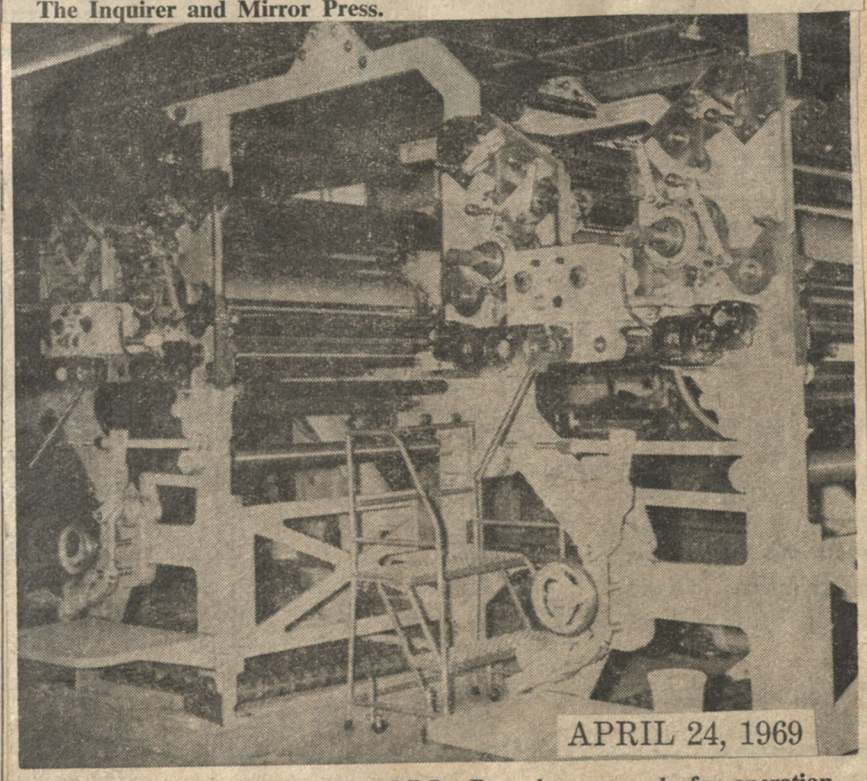
The new web off-set press, when in operation, will print and fold 14,000, 8-page newspapers an hour. The Goss Press has two units which handle four pages each, and the papar is fed into the press from two large rolls emerging as a folded, 8-page newspaper. The page size will be 17½ by 22¾ inches, with six columns to the page.

It will be possible to use color plates as well as black-and-white in the printing of the newspaper.

As yet no specific date for the first issue of The Inquirer and Mirror from the new press has been set, but a tentative date of May 15 has been announced by Publisher and Owner George W. Morgan.



Charles Kwaitkowski, the engineer and installer of the Goss Press, explaining its functions to Edward "Tony" Ruley, shop foreman of The Inquirer and Mirror Press.



APRIL 24, 1969

The newly installed Goss Web Off-Set Press is now ready for operation as soon as the equipment for producing the printing plates has been set up and functions.

Edouard A. Stackpole, Island Historian, Returns to Inquirer & Mirror as Editor

By Merle Turner Orleans 1966

George W. Morgan, publisher of The Inquirer and Mirror, announced this week that Edouard Alexandre Stackpole, of Nantucket, will assume the position of editor of this newspaper the first of October, replacing John F. Kelly, whose resignation was recently received by Mr. Morgan.

Speaking of Mr. Kelly's resignation, Mr. Morgan said, "He came to us from retirement at a critical time in our history and he did so, I think, because of a long and warm friendship that has covered a period of about 40 years. Having successfully seen us through our difficulties, he now returns to his retirement — this time on Nantucket. We wish him good health and happiness."

Edouard A. Stackpole

Mr. Stackpole's appointment will be greeted with enthusiasm by his many friends, remembering his lifelong interest in the newspaper, his deep love for Nantucket and his pride in her historic heritage. It wil be received with satisfaction by this newspaper's thousands of readers, the majority of whom have long felt that ideally its editor should be a Nantucketer, one who knows and understands the whims and fancies of the Island people, one who knows and understands the heritage of the whaling people and of their Quaker ancestry, one who is not afraid to face the future growth of Nantucket and of the newspaper with an open mind — not quick to criticize the new or strange, but to bear in mind that out of all that is new, not all has to be bad — and, most of all, one who is willing and ready to cooperate with those people working for a better town, a better Island, and, concurrently, a better newspaper.

Nantucket Bred

Just such a person is Edouard A. Stackpole and it gives us much pleasure that we were asked to write this announcement of his return to The Inquirer and Mirror inasmuch as we wrote, 15 years ago, the anouncement of the awarding of the Guggenheim Fellowship which changed his whole life and took him far away — but only in body, never in spirit.

Born December 7, 1905, the son of Charles H. and Theresa Stackpole, he attended the Nantucket schools, graduating from Nantucket High School in 1922. Two years later he was graduated from Roxbury Latin School and returned home to begin, in 1925, a career which has carried him far and wide and which has brought him many signal honors, all won by hard, diligent work and the use of his talented pen. It was in 1925 that he entered the employ of The Inquirer and Mirror as an apprentice printer, under the tutelage of Harry B. Turner, then editor.

In 1938 he became assistant editor of The Inquirer and Mirror and, in July of that year he was elected president of the Nantucket Historical Association, a position which he

When the late C. A. Chenoweth sold antiques and bric-a-brac there, and, incidentally, was appointed an auctioneer in order that he might sell "berths" on Steamboat wharf to the liverymen who at that time were keen rivals. The Old Curiosity Shop passed out of existence in 1915.

WOULD THAT EVERY small town crafts group could have the luck that befell Nantucket Weavers. The Nantucket Trust, established by the Beinecke family, has been restoring magnificently the 1845 Jared Coffin House as a year-round hotel and has used nearly 6,000 yards of decorative fabrics, rugs and carpets woven on the Island.

1962-3

THE FOUNDING OF NANTUCKET LOOMS

Some things are a long time in our dreams. And then suddenly, through a happy combination of circumstances, they come into existence to fill a very definite need. That is the story with Nantucket Looms.

In 1961 The Nantucket Historical Trust bought and began to restore the once beautiful old Jared Coffin House. In addition to the architectural changes planned, furniture needed to be refinished and re-upholstered. And drapery fabrics, rugs, embroidery and crocheted materials were also needed.

Couldn't these decorative materials be made on the Island? Indeed they could be. There were plenty of Nantucketers with natural talent in the crafts, if only someone would give them a helping hand. That helping hand came from The Nantucket Historical Trust. A building from an earlier era was bought on Main Street across from the historic Pacific Club. It was soon undergoing its own restoration.

New looms were moved in and thus began a much-needed industry on the Island. One that would provide year-round employment in a dignified and historically appropriate manner. One that the people of Nantucket would be proud to call their own.

Broad St

brunch fare

by Janet Christensen

"We're closed Mondays for dieting," said Stephen de Baun with a chuckle.

Two years ago the intrepid innkeeper began planning breakfast menus for India House on Nantucket with hardly more in hand than his mother's banana bread recipe. Now he's written a book of his popular menus and recipes, "Bountiful Breakfasts: Morning Magic from a Nantucket Inn recently published by Simon and Schuster.

"The first summer my friend Steve Goff did most of the cooking and his wife Marguerite and I shared the baking. We didn't know we would be so popular — I was also the bus boy!" he laughed.

De Baun worked for a Philadelphia advertising agency before his snap decision to buy the inn he had known and loved about 25 years. Goff is director of the performing arts at University of Pennsylvania.

For several years at the school he and Goff have coproduced "The Mask and Wig Show" which de Baun writes.

They also collaborated on the idea of serving a spectacular breakfast menu as the best first approach to feeding the public by a novice innkeeper. Their success prompted the decision last season to add an evening dinner menu.

Though de Baun's career had always been in writing, broadcasting and advertising, he went to Cornell Hotel School in college days. "I never planned to do this, but if I went to a nifty place to eat, I would say, 'This is the way I would like to run it.' "

"The cookbook still amuses me." An editor from Simon and Schuster who enjoyed de Baun's menus got him into it. "It's just funny that she was intrigued—I said, 'You must be kidding.' "

"The recipes get into the brunch category. Although they serve eight people, they still can be done for two to 20."

The morning menus always offer a choice of freshly squeezed orange juice and another fruit dish, an unusual dish with eggs—and one without, plus an assortment of hot homemade breads. Variety and innovation are two key factors in avoiding dull breakfasts, according to the de Baun theory.

Today's recipe for Eggs India House call for "muffined eggs." De Baun thought them up after deciding not to serve fried eggs—too trite, or poached eggs—too sloppy. The baked eggs in muffin tins are uniform, attractive and easily handled.

"I think my all-time favorite in the book is my mother's recipe for Ham and Cheese Casserole — but some might think it dull," he added.

Jim Heywood of the Culinary Institute of America in New Haven is chef at the inn this summer, but it's hard to keep de Baun out of the kitchen!

EGGS INDIA HOUSE

16 eggs
16 slices tomato
8 English muffins, split
Paprika
Cheese sauce

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare muffined eggs: drop eggs into buttered muffin tins (even if Teflon). Bake 8 minutes.

2. Put tomato slices in shallow pan and heat. Toast English muffins. Put tomato slice, then egg on each muffin half. Top with cheese sauce (recipe follows), dust with paprika and serve. Serves 8.

Cheese Sauce:
6 tablespoons flour
6 tablespoons butter
2½ cups light cream or milk
2 cups sharp Cheddar cheese, grated
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper

Combine flour and butter in double boiler over low heat. Cook for 2 minutes. Heat (don't boil) cream or milk. Gradually stir into flour and butter. Stir in grated cheese, mustard and Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper to liking.

Note: Cheese sauce can be prepared the day before, refrigerated, then reheated, or made before preparing the eggs.

PANCAKES WITH BLACK CHERRY SAUCE

2 cups Bisquick variety baking mix
2 cups milk
1 egg
Black cherry sauce

1. Beat all ingredients (except sauce) smooth with rotary beater. Spoon out small amounts of batter into hot buttered skillet or onto buttered griddle. Turn when bubbles appear, then remove when other side is brown.

2. Form two piles of small cakes on each plate, surround with bacon, and serve with melted butter and hot black cherry sauce (recipe follows) in separate pitchers.

Black Cherry Sauce:
1 cup sugar
1 cup cherry juice (plus water if necessary)
2 (1 lb. 4 oz.) cans black sweet cherries (pitted)
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons brandy

Simmer sugar and cherry juice together for 5 minutes. Add cherries with remaining juice. Make a paste of cornstarch and a little of the hot syrup before adding to rest of syrup. Stir until mixture thickens. Add brandy.

HAM AND CHEESE CASSEROLE

8 slices white bread (can be stale)
½ lb. sharp Cheddar cheese
3 cups diced cooked ham
1 (4 oz.) can mushroom slices
6 to 8 eggs, depending on size
3½ cups milk
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter 3-quart casserole dish. Tear apart enough bread to form layer in casserole. Cut cheese into bite-size pieces. Add a layer of ham to casserole, then one of cheese, then a sprinkling of mushrooms. Repeat until casserole is full, ending with bread and cheese on top.

2. Beat together eggs, milk, seasonings. Pour over mixture in casserole. (If liquid doesn't show ⅔ way up the side of the casserole, add more plain milk.) Bake for 1 hour.

Note: Varieties of this casserole are endless — shrimp, chicken, tuna fish in place of the ham; add peas, green beans, or sliced onions; use other cheeses or kinds of bread.

HYGIENIC ICE CO.

Distilled Water, Cold Storage

The use of ice has become so universal that it is now regarded by all well-informed people as one of the actual necessities of life. But the public exercises more caution in the selection of the ice used than was formerly the case, so it is but natural that very many should give the preference to the Hygienic Ice Company, for they have found that the ice furnished by that company is all that its name implies—that is, pure, wholesome, hygienic, as it is made from pure water.

The great and growing popularity of the Hygienic Ice Company is not entirely due to the high quality of the ice they supply, but also to the uniform reliability of the delivery service and the reasonableness of the prices quoted. This concern numbers among its regular customers many of the leading families, and may well take pride in the high position it holds in the favor of the most discriminating.

NORTH NATIONEL BANK, BOSTON, Mass, H. F. Dow. Esq., Dear Sir: I have very great confidence in the conservative management of the Lombard Investment Co., its financial strength and ability to meet all its liabilities. Its capital is $850,000, surplus fund $150,000, and the stockholders are liable for an amount equal to its capital on mortgages which it guarantees. Its stockholders are some of the most respectable business men in this city and other places and I think the company ranks the highest in financial ability and in the character of its managers of any in this city. I hold some of its guaranteed mortgages, and regard them as next in security to United States bonds. Colleges, charitable institutions and trustees have invested in them in quite large amount. Yours truly, Nantucket Advertising Unique One Hundred Years Ago.

The other day we chanced to pick up a copy of the Nantucket Inquirer of 1839—one hundred years ago. It proved interesting in several ways—difference in size, contrast in printing, general make-up of pages, character of advertisements, etc. Here are some of the items that we found of interest.

Charles F. Gardner offered for sale 20,000 feet of first quality western-made oars and 50,000 eastern-made bricks.

Robert B. Baynes was with James Easton, 2d, as an expert watch maker; "Mr. Brown" was to open a dancing school at a fee of $5.00 for eighteen lessons.

H. A. & E. G. Kelley had received a new supply of satin and bombazine neck scarfs.

Edward Mitchell was offering a new kind of yeast powder as a substitute for "emptins".

R. Pollard, Jr., had an opening for an active boy.

David Thain was offering 33 barrels of thin mess pork, 50 kegs of lard and 100 canvassed hams at bargain prices.

T. & N. Fitzgerald had just received 20 barrels of the best quality vinegar and Edward Mitchell had laid in a fresh stock of cosmetic pills for the cure of ring-worms and salt rheum.

S. B. Tuck had on sale 3,500 pounds of hams and 1,000 bushels of corn; while I. C. Ray had for sale a well-finished house built in 1835 which had a cistern at the door.

Barker & Athearn offered 30,000 pounds of candle paper; Isaac Austin had a new stock of anti-slavery books; G. Macy & Son had on sale 2,000 yards of calicoes in sample lots; T. & P. Macy had some excellent quality tight press bagging; and Samuel Haynes Jenks was taking orders for trees and plants.

The inhabitants of the town of Nantucket passed approval on the regulations issued by the newly-created Board of Firewards, under which no person was allowed to carry fire-brands, lighted cigars or pipes through the streets of the town, or to openly strike matches in any lanes or alleys. No owner or occupant of a building could erect or maintain any defective chimney hearth oven, stove pipe fire frame, or make any deposit of ashes. The Town Clerk was authorized to make complaints for violations of the new ordinances, with the stipulation that all fines secured for violations be applied to the improvement of the town's fire apparatus.

James M. Bunker advertised as a land surveyor; Henry C. Worth as a commission merchant; Isaac Austin as a dealer in dry goods and hardware; Samuel H. Jenks as a notary public; R. B. Baynes as a dentist; Daniel C. Easton as a merchant tailor; Victor Williams as a teacher of music; James Austin was announced as the surviving partner of the firm of Stubbs & Austin; and N. A. Sprague told the islanders that he had for sale sweet potatoes, corned beef and oil casks.

G. Macy & Son were taking freight aboard the packet schooner Mariner, bound for Charleston, S. C., and Justin Lawrence had just received a splendid assortment of chantilla veils.

Edward Mitchell was local agent for "Evans' Camomile and Aperient Pills", for the cure of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia, low spirits, sea-sickness, hiccoughs, bad dreams, pains in the side, alternate flashes, gout, etc. He also had Indian Balsam of Liverwort, which was good for sour stomach and obstinate coughs.

The above extracts were made from the Nantucket paper printed 100 years ago just to give our readers an idea of the versatility of Nantucket's business ventures in those days. A merchant did not confine himself to any particular branch, but apparently accepted any kind of business that came his way. The advertisements were not displayed and many of them occupied a scant half dozen lines. In those days it was the custom to swap commodities for advertising space—a custom that was in vogue for many years, even as late as the turn of the century.

It was quite the thing to receive in exchange for advertising a case of Scotts Emulsion, Dr. Greene's Nervura, Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or something of the kind. To this day, we have in use a proof press that has cast in its iron frame the words "Dr. Miles Nervine" on one end and "Miles' Pain Pills" on the other.

And we well recall seeing a bushel of potatoes dumped on the office floor with the request "just make mention that I have some fine potatoes this year"; or on a hot summer's day hearing the voice of the late George W. Hooper as he stepped forth from his ice cream cart with a generous helping for the "force" and the suggestion that we tell the folks how we liked the new flavor.

Well we recall one morning along in 1893 or 4 when a load of pumpkins rolled down onto the office floor, which the grower said were so unusually "warty" that he thought they "ought to be mentioned in the paper".

Business was conducted on the exchange basis in Nantucket, to a large extent, for many years, with an exemplification of good will and reciprocity that was amazing at times.

GOD BLESS

ROLLER SKATING
—AT—
THE NANTUCKET
Roller Skating Rink,
ATLANTIC HALL

A new surface has been laid, and the hall otherwise fitted for the purpose, and parties will find it one of the best ventilated halls in town. Gentlemanly attendants will assist beginners, and in all other respects the rink will be conducted in a manner that will meet the approbation of the most fastidious. The Winslow improved skate is used. Beginners would do well to attend the afternoon sessions, as they will thus be sure of better attention from the assistants than during the evening, when larger companies are upon the surface.

Music will be furnished by the Skating Rink Orchestra.

Admission to all parts of Rink: Evening, 25 cts; afternoon, 15 cts. Skate checks, 10 cts. Open every afternoon and evening. Sessions from 3 to 5, and from 8 to 10. Package Tickets, 6 for $1.00.

Manufacture of illuminating gas on Island has ceased

Manufactured gas is a thing of the past on Nantucket. The Nantucket Gas and Electric Company officially stoped making gas on Saturday morning, December 30, 1972. An official for the company said they wanted to thank all the customers for their co-operation in successfully completing the change over from gas to either electricty or bottled gas within the limited deadline of December 31, 1972. Approximately 400 residents and businesses were required to make the change over.

Starting January 8 all lines, holders and equipment will be purged of any remaining gas by Kopper's Company, an off-island firm. A company spokesman said the entire system will be clear of gas and there will be no danger of pockets of gas residue being left.

The purging process involves pumping carbon dixoide, in vapor form, through the system. The carbon dioxide "eats" up the gas. It is estimated that the process will take only four days from start to finish.

Plans for the existing gas facilities and property are undetermined. However, for the time being, the gas fuel tanks which held the naptha will be used in conjunction with the electric plant to hold No. 2 fuel oil for the electric generators.

Renovate Your Beds!

THE subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Nantucket, that having lately introduced his Patent Feather Renovator into this place, he is now prepared to renovate feathers in the most thorough and effective manner.

This process not only purifies and cleanses feathers in old beds, relieving them of their matted condition, but removes the disagreeable odor so common to new feathers, and destroys the liability to become filled with moths and worms, rendering them pure and healthy.

Our arrangements are such that we can renovate beds, and return them the same day.

Prices: $2.50 per bed, including pillows; 75 cents for a pair of pillows, when done without the bed; $3.00 where the tick requires washing. Satisfaction guaranteed, or no charge.

Send in your orders, and come and see the process for yourselves. Orders left at our place of business, on Main Street, near the Post Office, will receive prompt attention.

Is close at hand.

Boys know a good thing when they see it. That is the reason they rush to our store for their new school suits. The stock is large enough to stand a rush, and the clothing is strong enough to stand both rushing and romping after the boy gets inside of it. We not only study to please the boy, but his father and mother as well, hence our Boy Clothing is the kind that will stand hard knocks. No matter how lively the youngster, our clothing will stand the wear and tear. Plenty of style about it, too. Clothes have an influence on character. Dress a boy shabbily and he is apt to act shabby; dress him well and you'll make a man of him. Let us show you what good, strong, well-made, lively-boy clothing we have for little money. We have all the leading lines, such as the Monitor, Widow Jones, Little Sampson, and Mrs. Hopkins.

A quarter of a Century of Service

The Ships Inn was once the home of Captain Obed Starbuck

The present Ships Inn on Fair Street was built in 1831 by Captain Obed Starbuck. Capt. Starbuck, born in 1797, went to sea at an early age. Several of the ships which he commanded between 1819 and 1846 are remembered in the naming of the rooms at the Ships Inn.

Of note is the second voyage made by Starbuck in the ship Hero at the age of 16. The ship was captured by the pirate Benevedes off the Island of St. Mary's. The pirate took Captain Russell and the ship's boy ashore where he had then shot them. That night, Starbuck led a successful attempt to retake the vessel, got her safely out of the bay and sailed her to Valparaiso harbor. The owners of the vessel gave him command of the ship on the next voyage for having saved her from pirates.

During two voyages to the Pacific Captain Starbuck discovered a number of Islands. Among them were New Nantucket (Baker's Island), Starbuck Island, Tarcy Island (now Vaitupu) in the Ellice Group, Starbuck's Group in the Gilbert Island, now called Aranula, and several others.

His most profitable voyage was in the Loper in 1829 when he returned after a voyage of only 14 months with 280 barrels of sperm oil valued at $50,000 something of an island record.

He retired in 1843 and spent the next three decades as a leading citizen of the Town.

In 1793 Lucretia Coffin Mott was born in the house that stood on the site prior to the building of the present Ships Inn. Lucretia Mott was an ardent worker for the abolition of slavery and a prominent leader for women's rights.

For many years now the Ships Inn has been one of Nantucket's better known Inns. Much of the furniture in the guest rooms dates back to the days when Capt. Obed Starbuck lived in the house between his many voyages. The Inn was purchased earlier this year by Howard and Pamela Jelleme and leased to John and Bar Krebs, who plan to operate on a year round basis. The Krebs have spent the last six months in a restoration project of all the rooms and furniture. This summer they are offering New England breakfasts as well as cocktails by the fire and gourmet dinners. There is a fully equipped game room at the Inn for the enjoyment of the guests.

John and Bar have been residents of the island for the past three years. John skippered the charter fishing boat, Last Chance, and Bar was a substitute teacher in the elementary grades of the Nantucket School System. Prior to ecaping the hustle and bustle of city living in Baltimore, John was a stock broker and Bar was a full time teacher.

TOWN MEETING NOTICE.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NANTUCKET, SS.

To either of the Constables of the Town of Nantucket, Greeting:

IN the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby directed to notify the inhabitants of the town of Nantucket, qualified to vote in town affairs, to meet at the Town Hall on Monday, the twenty-sixth day of April, the current month, at one in the afternoon, then and there to act on the following articles:

First.—To choose a Moderator for said meeting.

Second.—To act on the following petition, viz: To see if the Town will instruct the Board of Selectmen to order that all dogs within the limits of the town, during the months of June, July, August and September shall be restrained from running at large, unless muzzled, and further to instruct the said Selectmen to issue such other and further orders as they are empowered to do under Section 101 of Chapter 102 of the Public Statutes.

Third.—To see if the Town will make further appropriation to complete the Polpis Road through to Siasconset.

Fourth.—To see if the Town will authorize the Selectmen to transfer balances.

Fifth.—To see if the Town will grant a sum of money for the proper observance of Decoration Day.

Sixth.—To see if the Town will authorize the School Committee to repair the roof of the High School building, and appropriate a sum of money sufficient therefor.

Seventh.—To see if the Town will appropriate a sum of money to repair North Beach street.

Eighth.—To see if the Town will instruct the School Committee to pay rent for the land occupied by the Siasconset school house; or to see if the Town will purchase the land on which said school house stands; or to see if the Town will in any other manner adjust the claim of adverse title to the said land.

Ninth.—To see what action the Town will take rela-

Tenth.—To see if the Town will light Easton street the same number of nights it does the village of Siasconset, and provide sufficient lamps therefor.

Eleventh.—To see if the Town will authorize the Selectmen to take measures to recover of the kindred of Lewis C. Winn, under the provisions of Chapter 84, of the Public Statutes, the amount expended by the town in the support of said Winn as a pauper.

tive to the report of the committee on repairs on Town's building.

And to act upon and transact all business that may arise in relation to the foregoing articles.

And you are directed to serve this warrant by posting two attested copies of the same in some public places within the Town, and by causing the same to be published in the newspapers of the Town.

Hereof fail not, and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, at the time and place of said meeting.

AN APPEAL
FROM THE W. C. T. U.

In the name of God and Home and Every Land.

Gentlemen—

We, members of the W. C. T. U. of this town, mothers, wives and daughters, appeal to you in behalf of the youth of Nantucket, in the interests of sobriety, virtue and morality, and for the sake of our community in its entire welfare;

Believing that to license the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage leads to moral deterioration, that no benefit can in any way be derived therefrom, that all so-called revenue from it is stamped with the divine disapproval and can never lead to real prosperity; most of all emphasizing the fact that physically, mentally, morally and spiritually, the traffic means destruction;

We therefore, for the sake of the boys and girls, for the sake of younger and older alike, ask you at the coming annual town meeting to

VOTE FOR

NO LICENSE

And we pray your hearts and homes may be guided by that inner revelation of conscience which is given to every inquiring mind and for which everyone will finally before God be held responsible.

Signed—Mary W. Valentine, president: Mary F. Coffin, secretary; Hattie A. Field, treasurer.

We, clergymen in the town, earnestly endorse the above appeal.

Signed—Rev. J. O. Rutter, Rev. F. W. Manning, Rev. J. E. Dinsmore.

Nantucket, January, 1904. 3t

To Whom it May Concern.

KNOW YE, that by the payment of three hundred dollars ($300), or more, and in compliance with the laws of our Commonwealth, I am permitted to retail intoxicating liquors at my store, No. 5 Fair street. To the wife who has a drunkard for a husband, or a friend who is unfortunately dissipated, I say emphatically, give me notice in person of such case or cases, in which you are interested, and all such shall be excluded from my place. Let mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers do likewise and their request shall be regarded. I pay a heavy tax for the privilege of selling whiskey and other liquors, and I want it distinctly understood that I have no desire to sell to drunkards or minors, or to the poor or destitute. I much prefer that they save their money and put it where it will do the most good to their families. There are men of honor, and men of money who can afford it, and it is with those I desire to trade. I would say to those who wish to trade with me and can afford it, come and I will treat you gentlemanly and courteously.

E. S. FITZGERALD, Proprietor.

EXCURSION THROUGH

NEW YORK CITY.

BULLARD'S

PANORAMA OF NEW YORK CITY

Shows the visitor forty-one miles of the City. He has perspective views of forty-three streets leading from Broadway.

THE ASTOR HOUSE, CITY HALL, TOMBS, NEW YORK HOTEL, TRINITY CHURCH, METROPOLITAN HOTEL, STEWART'S STORE, BARNUM'S MUSEUM, ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL,

Every building on the west side of

at the time the Panorama was completed, from the Battery to Union Park,

One and a half Miles of Shipping and Steamers,

700 Horses and Carriages, and 10,000 People,

THE BATTERY AND CASTLE GARDEN,

ARE REPRESENTED AS LARGE AS LIFE.

In a word, he views the city just as it would appear to him were he to go there and walk or ride through the most interesting parts of the city. 5,000 signs, and 75,000 letters on them, are represented on Broadway alone. This work is painted on 18,000 feet of canvass, weighs 1600 pounds, was four years in being painted, and cost $16,000. It has been visited by more than one million persons in the United States and Canada.

At each representation of the Panorama, as it passes before the spectator, an explanatory lecture will be given by Dr. J. H. Lillie or Mr. A. Williams, illustrative of New York City, its statistics, business, and resources, its people, their go-aheadativeness, and much valuable knowledge of great importance to a stranger, and of general and instructive information to everybody.

THE exceedingly fine cottages—Auburn, Olympia and Brooklyn are rented. Stand by early for 1903.

I still have the Gibbs house at Monomoy This very fine cottage (with a nice stable for one horse. and bath-house) furnished complete, without silver, I will rent for $150 for the season of 1902. It has parlor, kitchen and dining-room on first floor, and nice veranda, three sleeping rooms on second floor.

There are other fine cottages at Monomoy which I do not own, and my only interest in them is to try to bring to the public mind the fact that Nantucket is the natural sanitarium of the world, and I want a health seeker in every cottage. I will gladly answer any inquiries which will help any invalid in selecting summer quarters.

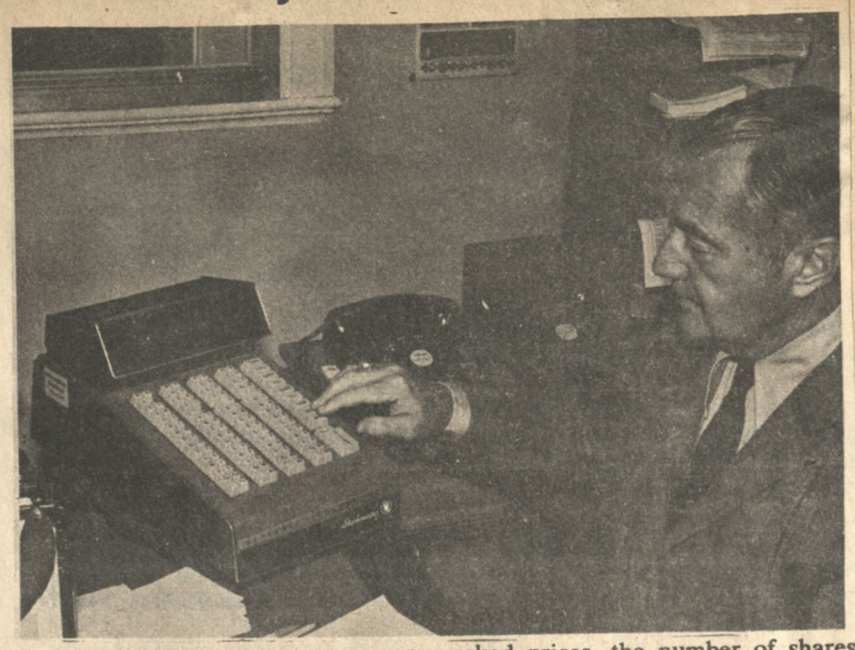
Nantucket only seconds from Wall Street



The stock brokerage firm of Tucker, Anthony & R L. Day has a small office tucked away at 38 Orange St., managed by Harold W. Lindley. The office is equipped like most other offices with desks, chairs, lights and telephones. The big difference is a small machine, resembling a desk calculator, which is called a Stockmaster. It is really a computer terminal, sometimes called a "remote set", which is directly connected to the memory banks of the master computers in the major financial centers in the country. This device gives Nantucket the investment advantage of a presence on Wall St. with none of the noise, dirt, traffic and confusion of the City.

By punching combinations of the 131 keys on the terminal Mr. Lindley can obtain eleven different types of information about a stock on any of the exchanges - including such facts as the current bid and asked prices, the number of shares traded in that issue, earnings, dividends and time of last trade. The terminal can also obtain the Dow Jones and other averages and how much they are up or down on that day, total volume for the day, and the bid and asked prices on more than 3000 over-the-counter stocks.

The terminal is only about ten inches wide and high, and sixteen inches long, and is backed up by several cubic feet of electronic equipment elsewhere in the office. Its information appears in the form of illuminated figures on the upper face of the instrument. It is quiet and rarely breaks down

Mr. Lindley says that while it is possible to run a brokerage office without such a machine - he has done so in the past - it is much more difficult, frustrating and time-consuming.

Nantucket's Newest Motel Opens Its Doors Tomorrow

Nantucket's newest motel, a handsome building with 17 rental units including three efficiency apartments for family living, will open its doors tomorrow.

It is the Beachside Motel on North Beach Street in the heart of the Brant Point beach district, and will be managed by Mrs. Gilbert F. Waine.

The new motel is just a step away from both public and private beaches, tennis courts, restaurants, art galleries, churches, theatres, and famous historic landmarks and museums.

It is designed not only for summer rentals but for year-round tenancy. All rooms have individually controlled heat. There is also a patio for lounging, badminton, and croquet.

Nantucketers are invited to go on out and look around as the guests of the management.

AMHERST, Dec. 1, 1868.

This certifies that I have examined and thoroughly tried Perkins & House's metallic Lamp offered for sale by Mr. Votaw. In my opinion it should at once and everywhere take the place of the glass lamps in common use. 1. Being of brass it will not break when thrown upon the floor, and it is so constructed that it is perfectly non-explosive, and the oil will not escape even when the lamp is turned bottom up. Thus it is safe. 2. The peculiar construction gives a long, narrow flue or chimney most favorable to perfect combustion and steadiness of flame. Hence the light is PURE, WHITE, and UNIFORM; better than is produced by any other lamp with which I am acquainted. It is invaluable to those who are compelled to read, write or sew in the evening. 3. It is durable, easily kept in order, and is not so liable to run over as ordinary lamps. I believe it true economy, considering the safety, the quality and quantity of the light, and the durability of this Lamp, to throw away all other kinds and use only this. Hundreds of lives are lost, thousands of persons fearfully burned, and millions of property consumed annually by casualties of this sort, nine-tenths of which would be prevented by the exclusive use of good Kerosene in this Safety Lamp.

IMPROVED

AND

HARMONIONS. 1858

CHARLES AUSTIN is the oldest manufacturer of Melodeons in the United States, and having commmenced the business at Concord, N. H., in 1835. He has made over 4000 instruments, all of which have proved entirely satisfactory. Recently he erected a large factory, with steam power attached, and has invented a number of machines, which do the work more perfect than it can possibly be done by hand, and in many parts of the instruments saves two-thirds of the labor usually required; consequently he believes he is now prepared to sell a better Instrument, and at a lower price, than can be bought in this country. He also manufactures Harmonions for Churches, with Pedal Bass, with from two to six Stop Reeds. All instruments warranted to give satisfaction. The Reeds used in the celebrated Æolian Attachment to the Pianos of Messrs T. Gilbert & Co., are manufactured by him.

☞ Specimens of these instruments can be seen by calling at the residence of

M. P. ALDERMAN, Agent for Nantucket.

LIST OF PRICES.—Æolian or Portable Style, 4 Octave. $45; 4 1-2 octave, $55; 5 octave $65.

Piano Style, 5 Octave, single, $85; do do extra, $100; 6 octave, single, $125; 7 octave, single, $150; 5 octave, double, $125 to $150; 5 octave, double, 2 banks keys, $175 to 200.

Harmonions, prices from $200 to 400. j253

GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINES.

KELLEY & CO., continue to sell Grover & Baker's unrivalled Sewing Machines at the manufacturers prices.

Reasons why the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine is universally preferred for family sewing and other kinds of work.

1st —It is more simple and easily kept in order than any other machine.

2d —It makes a seam which will not rip or ravel, though every third stitch is cut.

3d.—It sews from two ordinary spools, and thus all trouble of winding thread is avoided, while the same Machine can be adapted, at pleasure, by a mere change of spools; to all varieties of work.

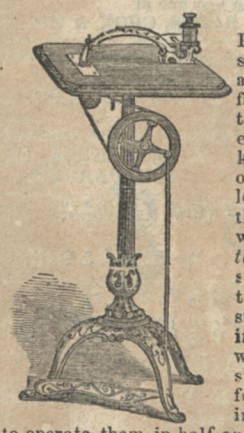
4th.—The same Machine runs silk, linen thread and common spool cotton with equal facility.

5th.—The same is as elastic as the most elastic fabic, so that it is free from all liability to break in washing, ironing, or otherwise.

6th.—The stich made by this Machine is more beautiful than any other other make, either by hand or machine. 1857 jy20

SEWING MACHINES

Pratt's Patent—Price from $12 to $25.



THE "LADIES COMPANION" is the most simple, durable, compact and cheap machine for family use ever offered to the public; sewing equally well upon all kinds of fabric, and without puckering the cloth leaving no bad cord on the back side of the work, and always fastening the thread when stopped. They sew from two to twelve hundred stitches per minute, using but one thread, and without rewinding. The stitch can be varied from five to fifty to the inch. Any one can learn to operate them in half an hour. Printed directions accompany each machine, by which any one can use them. They have now been in use one year, and are giving the best satisfaction. Every machine is warranted to give satisfaction.

Ladies and gentlemen are invited to call and examine them and their work, and judge for themselves.

TREES, &C., FOR 1858.

THE SUBSCRIBER, feeling himself qualified to select Trees and Vines, such as are best adapted to this Island, takes pleasure in offering to the public, any of the following, at as low prices as they can be bought here or elsewhere.

Standard and Dwarf Pear Trees, of all sizes;
Apple Trees from 38 to 50 cents;
Cherry Trees, very fine;
Quince, Peach and Plum Trees;
Gooseberry bushes of all sorts, including the famous Houghton's Seedling, that never blights;
Currants of all sorts;
Grape Vines of all sizes, kinds and prices, from 25 cents, up;
Raspberries, the best sorts;
Lawton Blackberries, at $2 50 per dozen; former price, $5;
Evergreens, Elms and all kinds of ornamental trees; Shrubs, Rose Bushes and all kinds of Garden Plants;
Strawberry plants of all the best sorts for home or market use.

In addition to the above a quantity of the famous Peabody's Seedling Hautboy Strawberry Plants, at $5.00 per 100 plants, which is 50 per cent. less than others are selling them at. The plants are grown by myself and can be relied on as true to kind and as they are hermaphrodite, I take pleasure in recommending them as the best sort ever produced. A picture and description of them can be seen at the store of Mr. George W. Macy, on Main street.

1856 DR J. H. SCHENCK'S

SEA WEED TONIC,

FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA

THIS remedy is composed of a compound preparation of a common weed growing along the sea shore, and is a certain and infallible remedy for the cure of Dyspepsia and its accompanying diseases, to wit:

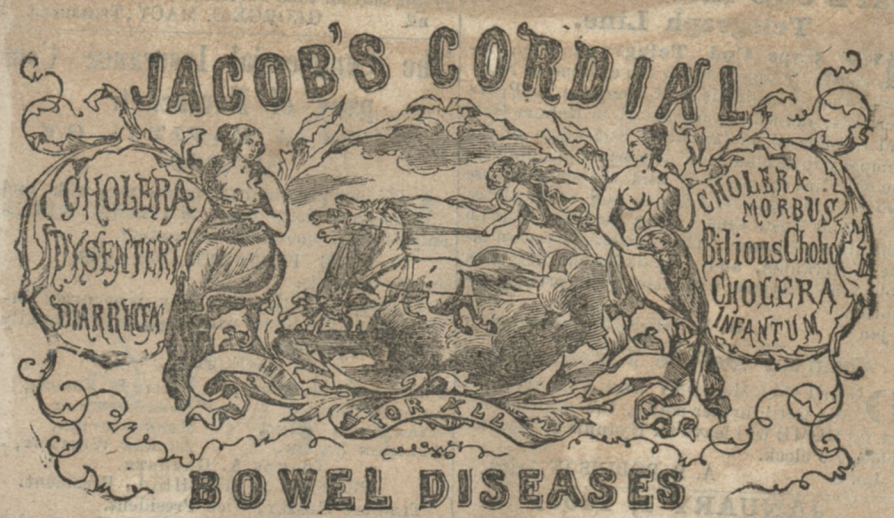
SOUR AND SICK STOMACH, LOSS OF APPETITE, HEADACHE, PAIN IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, PALPITATIONS OF THE HEART, ULCERS AND ERUPTIONS OF ALL KINDS, CHILLS AND FEVER, GRAVEL, AND DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS, NERVOUSNESS, WEAKNESS OF THE LIMBS, FAINTING SPELLS, AND ALL DISEASES PECULIAR TO FEMALES.

Nearly every person is more or less afflicted with Dyspepsia or some of the diseases connected with it, and it is with feelings of pleasure that Dr. Schenck can announce to all such the discovery of the virtues of the Sea Weed, which is just the remedy for their ailments. Dyspepsia and the many diseases arising from it, is caused by the deficient secretion of the gastric juices, and weakness of the powers of the stomach. The effect of the Sea Weed Tonic is felt soon after it is taken, as it supplies at once the principles of the deficient gastric juice, and the food is digested naturally. In fact the Tonic so nearly resembles the natural gastric juice that chemists even find difficulty in distinguishing them. It gives tone and strengthens the stomach, thus enabling it to secrete the proper quantity and quality of gastric juice, and Dyspepsia and all its diseases soon disappear.

It is a well known fact that none suffers like the Dyspeptic, for in addition to the Dyspepsia there is often either Headache, Sour and Sick Stomach, Pain in the Side, Palpitations of the Heart, Chills and Fever, Gravel, Disease of the Kidneys, Nervous Weakness and Tremors, General Debility, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bad Taste, Fever, Stoppages in Females, all or each of them arising from a disordered state of the Stomach and here is a newly discovered remedy for the trifling sum of one dollar, that will cure this train of disease.

Now, Dyspeptic, will you avail yourself of this remedy for so trifling a cost? or will you still suffer on? The choice is for you to make. The Sea Weed Tonic is a pleasant bitters, giving a person a good appetite and good digestion; is put up in quart bottles, always agrees with the stomach, and one bottle generally effects a cure. Whenever the bowels are costive, the tongue furred, or the complexion sallow, a few of Schenck's Mandrake or Liver Pills are to be used. A box of these Pills accompany each bottle of the Tonic, and will be found in a recess of the bottle covered with a label. Dec—1y

GREAT SOUTHERN REMEDY.



BOWEL DISEASES

ALSO,

Admirably adapted to many Diseases of Females, most especially Painful Menstruation.

THE VIRTUES OF JACOB'S CORDIAL are too well known to require encomiums.

1st. It cures the worst cases of Diarrhœa.
2d. It cures the worst forms of Dysentery.
3d. It cures California or Mexican Diarrhœa.
4th. It relieves the severest Colic.
5th. It cures Cholera Morbus.
6th. It cures Cholera Infantum.
7th. It cures Painful Menstruation.
8th. It relieves Pain in Back and Loins.
9th. It counteracts Nervousness and Despondency.
10th. It restores Irregularities.
11th. It dispels gloomy and hysterical Feelings.
12th. It's an admirable Tonic.

A few short Extracts from Letters, Testimonials, &c.

"I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and have found it a most efficient, and in my judgment, a valuable remedy.
HON. HIRAM WARNER,
Judge of Supreme Court, Georgia."

"It gives me pleasure in being able to recommend Jacob's Cordial; my own personal experience, and the experience of my neighbors and friends around me, is a sufficient guarantee for me to believe it to be all that it purports to be, viz. A SOVEREIGN REMEDY.
WM. H. UNDERWOOD,
Formerly Judge of Superior Court, Cherokee Circuit."

"I take great pleasure in recommending this invaluable medicine to all afflicted with bowel diseases, for which I believe it to be a sovereign remedy — decidedly superior to any thing else ever tried by me.
A. A. GAULDING,
Deputy G. M. of the Grand Lodge of Georgia."

"I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and this, with all I hear about it as a remedy by those who have tried it, induces me to believe that it stands at the head of every preparation of the kind, and I would recommend its use in the diseases for which it is compounded.
MILES G. DOBBINS,
Cashier of the Bank of the State of Georgia, Griffin."

"If there is any credibility in human testimony, Jacob's Cordial must stand preëminent above all other preparations for the cure of Bowel Diseases. From the mass of testimony in its favor coming in from all quarters, it must be very far in advance, as a curative agent, of most if not all other 'patent' preparations.
A. FLEMING,
Cashier Marine and Fire Insurance Bank, Griffin."

"This efficient remedy is travelling into celebrity as fast as Bonaparte pushed his columns into Russia, and gaining commendation wherever used." — Georgia Jeffersonian, May 19th, 1853.

The Rev. Wm. Hosmer, editor of "The Northern Independent," Auburn, N. Y.; the Rev. E. H. Cressey, D.D., Rector of St. Peter's Church, Auburn, N. Y.; the Rev. B. I. Ives, Chaplain of the Auburn State Prison; the Rev. Spencer M. Rice, Rector, New-Bedford, Mass.; the Rev. Allen Steele, New-York Conference; the Rev. Samuel Nichols, East-Genesee Conference, N. Y.; the Rev. P. S. Pratt, Dorset, Vt.; the Rev. John E. Robie, Buffalo; A. C. Hart, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; the Hon. Neal Dow, Portland, Me.; the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, South-Bend, Ind.; the Hon. George Humphreys, N. Y.; Henry D. Cook, Esq., Editor of the "Ohio State Journal," Columbus, Ohio; the Hon. R. H. Graham, Moline, Ill.; the Hon. Thomas J. Chase, Monticello, Fla.; the Hon. Joseph Benedict, Utica, N. Y.; Wm. Bristol, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; A. S. Pond, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; James Plunkett, Esq., Nashville, Tenn.

LIST OF SPECIFIC REMEDIES.

No. 1.—For Fever, Congestion, and Inflammation.
No. 2.—For Worm Fever, Worm Colic, Wetting the Bed.
No. 3.—For Colic, Crying, Teething, and Wakefulness of Infants.
No. 4.—For Diarrhœa, Cholera Infantum, and Summer Complaints.
No. 5.—For Colic, Gripings, Dysentery, or Bloody Flux.
No. 6.—For Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Vomiting.
No. 7.—For Coughs, Colds, Influenza, and Sore Throat.
No. 8.—For Tooth-ache, Face-ache, and Neuralgia.
No. 9.—For Headache, Vertigo, Heat and Fullness of Head.
No. 10.—Dyspepsia Pills—For Weak and Deranged Stomach, Constipation, and Liver Complaint.
No. 11.—For Female Irregularities, Scanty, Painful, or Suppressed Periods.
No. 12.—For Leucorrhea, Profuse Menses, and Bearing Down of Females.
No. 13.—For Croup, Hoarse Cough, Bad Breathing.
No. 14.—Salt Rheum Pills—For Erysipelas, Eruptions, Pimples on the Face.
No. 15.—Rheumatic Pills—For Pain, Lameness, or Soreness in the Chest, Back, Loins, or Limbs.
A.—For Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Old Mismanaged Agues.
P.—For Piles, Blind or Bleeding, Internal or External.
O.—For Sore, Weak, or Inflamed Eyes and Eyelids; Failing, Weak, or Blurred Sight,
C.—For Catarrh, of long standing or recent, either with obstruction or profuse discharge.
W. C.—For Whooping Cough, abating its violence and shortening its course.

In all acute diseases, such as Fevers, Inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Croup, Rheumatism, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, bronchitis, and consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach, Constipation, Liver Complaints, Piles, Female Debility, and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

Old Coffin Store Sold To Philip C. Murray

Announcement of the sale of Louis Coffin & Company, including the land, building, stock, and fixtures, the oldest store in antucket operated under one family, to Philip C. Murray, was made Tuesday by members of the Coffin family.

Louis Coffin, who founded the store in 1908 for the retail sale of women's wear and dry goods, died in 1929 and left the business to his six children who continued to run it until this week. It has been in continuous operation for 56 years and had become an Island landmark on Main Street.

The store was closed Tuesday for inventory and officially became Mr. Murray's property on Wednesday. The sale was made through Albert J. Pitkin, real estate broker.

Louis Coffin, the founder, was the grandson of Henry Coffin, who builk the brick mansion at 75 Main Street during the whaling days. Old deeds to the store show that it was once owned by Jared Coffin, who built the Jared Coffin House, formerly the Ocean House.

Members of the Coffin family who sold the store to Mr. Murray, all natives of Nantucket, are Mrs. Eleanor C. Kittredge, Manchester, N. H.; William W. Coffin, Mrs. Louise W. Collins, and Mrs. Alice Daly, all of Nantucket; Levi Coffin of California and Louis Coffin, Jr., of Roosevelt, L. I., N. Y.

According to Registry of Deeds records the building was sold by the Pacific National Bank to Jared Coffin on Feb. 18, 1941, for the sum of $2,500. Other owners who followed Jared Coffin were Henry A. Kelley, Charles K. Pratt, Charles H. Starbuck, Avis N. Murphy, Leander Cobb, Mary Jane Cobb, James A. Westgate, Ann A. Westgate, Samuel Dudgeon, and Louis Coffin in 1908.

Mr. Murray said he would continue the store under the management of Mrs. Alice Daly, present manager, until the end of the year when Mrs. Daly plans to retire. The store was managed by Miss Ida Parker for more than 40 years until her retirement six years ago.

Real Estate.

Mrs. Helen Coffin has sold her property on Prospect street, known as the Lot D. Fisher place, to Miss Grace B. Gardner. Mrs. Coffin will hereafter make her home with relatives on the mainland. Oct 28, 1905

Another Old Nantucket House Being Restored.

9/23/33

The old "Nye" house on Liberty street, recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blair, is being restored. Alfred F. Shurrocks is the architect and H. G. Gardner is doing the carpentry work in the restoration. The masonry is being done by John C. Ring's workmen and the electrical work by William Waine. The present generation knows the property as the John C. Ayers house. It is one of the typical Nantucket dwellings, with its old-time type of construction, large open fire-places, wide floor-boards, etc., and when the work of restoration is completed it will mean the preservation of another example of the real old Nantucket architecture. Many of our readers will doubtless recall the property as where "Miss Bettridge" kept her store a half-century ago.

SALE OF "CARTWRIGHT" PROPERTY ON PROSPECT STREET

The property pictured above at 6 Prospect Street has been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Elias J. Lyon to Madeleine A. K. Pagon, wife of Garrett D. Pagon, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Pagon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kilvert, of 105 Main street, Nantucket, and Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Pagon expect to retain all of the old lines and architecture of this house, which so far has been unspoiled by former owners. They will occupy it as their summer home in the future.

Few houses left in Nantucket have a more historic background. At one time it was the homestead of Elias Ceely, great-grandfather of Lincoln Ceely. At a later period, it was owned by David Cartwright and in more recent years by the family of William B. Church of Milwaukee, Wis.

The sale was made through Elias J. Lyon & Co.

IRON ON NANTUCKET Whale

How the NAN TUC whale was created

Once, improvising a pocket into a nautical jumper with a knife slash and a patch of iron-on, he came upon a whale of an idea. He had some of the iron-on left over and used it to enhance a shirt with an illustration of a whale and a message about conservation. The design was more than attractive and prompted many inquiries along Nantucket's cobblestone streets: "Where'd you get it?" "Can I get one like it?"—After a few months of this the initial flattery wears off and wheels begin to turn.

So he formed *NAN TUC D*esigns Unlimited, and now your opportunities are unlimited to create your own unique shirts featuring the Sperm, Right, Humpback, Finback and Blue whales.

NANTUCKET MAGAZINE

"Everyone in the United States has a right to come to Nantucket or Martha's Vineyard at the same time if he has a mind to. Everyone wouldn't succeed, of course, but there could be a famous jam-up at Woods Hole. Practical difficulties aside, the right exists, and although the islands are not bound to maintain floating equipment for the transport of everyone in the United States, whatever floating equipment they do maintain must be available on equal terms without discrimination to anyone or everyone. . . .

"What are we islanders to do? How are we to parcel out our blessings?"

From "Letter From Another Island" by Henry Beetle Hough, editor of the Vineyard Gazette, in the July issue. The contents also include articles on people who have fled the city to live year-round on Nantucket, archeologists' search for the island's past, a family that built its own house, Nantucket after a February snowstorm — and much more.

WAUWINET

ISLAND OF NANTUCKET, MASS.

Distance from town of Nantucket, nine miles; by water, seven miles.

TO RENT, the very desirable beautifully located sea-side bungalow, "Spindrift," thoroughly equipped andfurnished forsummer or permanent housekeeping.

The grounds are an acre and a half in extent completely fenced in with a frontage of 225 feet on the harbor. The building stands fifty feet back from the beach on rising ground, and consists of seven bed-rooms, large and capacious parlor, dining room, kitchen and abundant closet accommodation; all plastered. A broad and shady piazza, facing water, enclosed with sliding awnings. Open fireplaces in parlor and dining room for burning coal, wood or peat. Copper wire fly screens to all windows. Large collection of books suitable for sea-side reading. Kitchen fitted up with every convenience and requisite for culinary purposes, is cool, well ventilated and lighted and contains large portable cooking range, Lorillard refrigerator, dresser closets, drawers, galvanized iron sink, etc. Sink connects with ventilated earthen-ware grease trap. Pump to driven well, with never failing supply of cool delicious pure water in rustic porch adjoining kitchen. Tanks containing fifteen hundred gallons of rain water, for laundry use, supplied from roof. Detached privy with water tight cemented vault; a roomy barn; coal and wood shed; 2 bath houses on beach; private wharf. Connections with town by water twice a day. Housekeeping easy, simple and pleasant. Fine sailing, good fishing and claming. Surf bathing in ocean, and still water bathing in harbor, perfectly safe; an ideal place for children and a haven of rest for the overworked.

For rent, plans, photographs and further particulars, apply to A. T. MOWRY, Main St., Nantucket, or to JAMES A. BACKUS, Wauwinet, Nantucket. a3—2m

THE WAUWINET HOUSE,

NANTUCKET.

(HEAD OF THE HARBOR.)

OPEN FOR BOARDERS JUNE 20th, 1882.

THE Wauwinet House has been much improved during the past year, the bed-rooms have been remodeled and refurnished, a new dining room for regular boarders has been arranged, and the place has been rendered thoroughly comfortable in all respects.

AT WAUWINET

there is a sea breeze which ever way the wind blows. There is both surf bathing and still water bathing. It is a perfectly safe place for children, and the healthiest place on the island for invalids, and the most restful place for those who are tired out.

As the hotel accommodations include but a small number of rooms, arrangements for board should be made at once. Address,

NEW MANAGEMENT.

THE subscriber has taken this popular Hotel for the season and will open the same June 10th. The attractions of Nantucket are many, and not among the least is the famous sport of Blue Fishing, which is enjoyed by thousands the entire season. The cool, bracing atmosphere, the absence of fogs and mosquitoes are certainly charming recommendations. The Proprietor feels assured with his successful experience as a hotel-keeper, both in New York and in Massachusetts, that visitors at the Bay View will be made comfortable and happy. The table will be supplied with the best—in short—it will not be excelled by any on the Island. The means of communication will be ample. Passengers leaving New York at night will arrive (via New Bedford) at Nantucket, 11.30 A. M., next day. Leave Boston at 12 M., arrive at Nantucket at 5.45, P. M. Address,

THE OCEAN HOUSE.

OCEAN HOUSE AND COTTAGES,
Broad and Centre Sts., Nantucket, Mass.
W. D. Carpenter, Proprietor.

Nantucket has so many special charms of its own that it is easy to account for the preference shown the island by many who are so well off financially as to have practically all the world to choose from. And it is equally easy to account for the preference shown for the Ocean House. Its name itself is attractive—and that attraction is not lessened in the least when one "puts up" at the Ocean House and finds what is provided for him. He finds a well-arranged and well-equipped hotel; he finds most comfortable guest rooms, with accommodations for 200 guests, and he finds an exceptionally satisfactory cuisine and service. The proprietor, Mr. W. D. Carpenter, who has conducted the Ocean House for the past thirteen years, maintains every detail of the service at the highest possible standard of efficiency. He makes his guests feel "at home"—and he makes that "home" so satisfactory that they regret leaving it, but return season after season. Many of the rooms are en suite with private bath and almost every room has running water.

The Inquirer and Mirror

The Inquirer and Mirror is published every Thursday at The Milestone, Nantucket, Mass., by The Inquirer and Mirror, Inc. Second Class postage paid at the Post Office, Nantucket, Mass. 02554.

The Inquirer was established June 23, 1821, by Samuel Haynes Jenks. The Mirror was established by John Morrissey in 1845. The two papers were combined April 1, 1865, and published under the name of The Inquirer and Mirror. Roland B. Hussey was editor and publisher from 1887 to 1907. Published by Arthur H. Cook and Harry B. Turner from July 1, 1907 to September 5, 1925. From this time until March 1, 1948 it was owned, edited and published by Harry B. Turner. The Inquirer and Mirror was incorporated March 1, 1948 with Harry B. Turner continuing as editor until his death on November 9, 1948. From that time until August 9, 1958, the owners and editors were Merle Turner Orleans and Gordon B. Turner. The Inquirer and Mirror Publishing Company (Incorporated) was established August 10, 1958 with Robert Deeley owner and publisher and John Stackpole editor. George W. Morgan purchased The Inquirer and Mirror Publishing Company (Incorporated) in June 1962. It acquired The Town Crier on September 26, 1963. The name of the corporation was changed to The Inquirer and Mirror, Inc., pursuant to a certificate entitled Articles of amendment, dated and executed September 23rd, 1964, and thereafter filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The Inquirer and Mirror was purchased from the estate of George W. Morgan, February 27, 1970 by Thomas H. C. and F. Marie Giffin, George A. Snell and Albert F. Egan, Jr., with F. Marie Giffin named as publisher and managing editor.

Yesterday's Postmark ?

Take a good hard look. The postmark shown above is like an endangered species. Wherever your home town may be, its name is in danger of disappearing from its traditional and EXCLUSIVE postmark.

A quote from a well-researched feature article in the New York Times of Feb. 3, 1973, states:

"For the United States Postal Service is in the process of eliminating, with the exception of a very few of the largest cities, virtually all town and city names from its postmarks. This, officials say, will speed mail service.

"It is a step that eventually will wipe from the letters of the land the old lyrical names of America, the artful names pioneers chose to describe their initial thoughts on their new homes. . .

"But now the postal service is installing automated sorting and canceling equipment around the country in Area Mail Processing Centers, or A.M.P.C.s, as they are called.

Like observant people all over the country, many Nantucketers have become aware that some letters they received have had strange postmarks --with no mention of the place of origin. However, it never seems to occur to the average citizen to write to his Senators or Congressman about something so trivial as a postmark.

One day in the relaxing quiet of mid-winter on Nantucket Island, Mitch and Mary Allen Havemeyer having read the story in the New York Times decided to do something about it. As proprietors of Mitchell's Book Corner (Main & Orange Streets), Nantucket, they ran a special "ad" in the local weekly newspaper. Under the headline "WORLD'S GREATEST POSTMARK NOW ON ENDANGERED LIST", they quoted the Times article and asked readers to sign a protest to be forwarded to the U.S. Postmaster General. The protest simply asked that worthy to exempt First Class and Air Mail from the automated postmarking system.

The Havemeyers feel that the automation of postmarks is a national disgrace - an insult, however small, to the man who, as Lincoln said, is "proud of the place in which he lives."

You are welcome to drop in to Mitchell's and add your name to their next shipment of signatures. What's more, if any readers would like to have the warm experience of gathering signatures in their own home towns, the Havemeyers will be most happy to assist them. ●

As recent as 30 years ago the dwelling house architecture of the old town of Nantucket was described as "95% perfect".

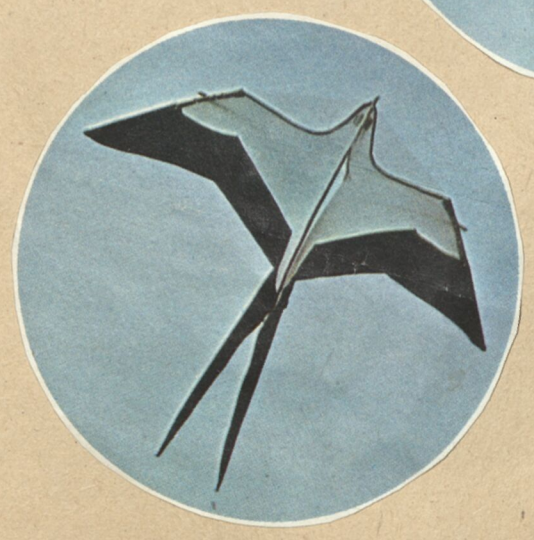
NANTUCKET'S KITEMAN

Al Hartig launching his successful Eagle kite.

The Nantucket Kiteman shop on Old South Wharf on Nantucket Harbor is run by Al and Betty from around mid-June to mid-September. They do a mail order business in all seasons, but when determined customers seek them out in the off-season, the Hartigs invite them out to the house to select their kites. A friend in New York operates a specialty shop called Go Fly a Kite, where he sells the Hartig and other creations to the retail trade and also acts as a distributor. Stores such as F.A.O. Schwartz have also bought the Hartig kites for sale to their own customers.

The family team turns out some 3000 cotton broadcloth-and-birch dowel creations each year and haven't had one taker on their money-back guarantee that every kite will fly, ample proof that a boy who built boats, grew up and discovered art which led to living in New York City and vacationing in the Catskills and making kites which turned out to be great diversion in a park where model boats could no longer be sailed, did it. He built a better kite. And a better life around it. ■

Hartig and his wife make all the kites by hand.



HOW TO FLY KITES

"Most people, unfortunately, feel that you must run with a kite to make it fly," says Al Hartig. "Every book on kiting that I've found tells you to simply put your back to the wind and hold the kite up. Any decent kite will fly right out of your hand. At the most you might have to let out about fifty feet of line, put the kite out that fifty feet, if possible have someone hold it, and then put it up.

"The only time I run is in under four-mile-an-hour winds. I run to get it up the first fifty feet, then spend another twenty minutes nursing it up that other one hundred feet. Once it gets up another hundred feet or so, the wind picks it up from there.

"But with stronger winds, it's just a matter of standing there.

"You have to pick your location correctly, of course. Wind is like water running over a rock. You don't stand at the bottom of a bluff and just pick up the curl. You should stand on top of that bluff and get the full force. I've noticed children especially running side-ways to the wind. No kite is going to fly sideways, and if you try that, they just fall on the ground and break.

"My favorite height for flying kites is between 600 and 800 feet. When you go much higher, they're so far away they're hard to see, and that takes some of the fun away."

Shoplifting

DON'T SAY WE DIDN'T WARN YOU !

By far the highest percentage of people who come to Nantucket Island are honest and welcome visitors. However, as has become the bane of our society, especially on the mainland, there are those who believe that they should get what they want by shoplifting.

Nantucket, unfortunately has had some experience with these parasites of human society and has developed some clever and rigorous anti-shoplifting techniques employing both human, electronic, sonic and some still secret surveilance methods which are being used in co-operation with the local and state police.

The isolation of the island has in itself proved very effective. The laws ARE strict against shoplifting.

You are on an island, 30 miles at sea and you just might be caught while still on the island;or as you board a boat for the mainland; or while on the boat; or as you debark from the boat on the mainland.

The Inquirer and Mirror

The Inquirer and Mirror is published every Thursday at The Milestone, Nantucket, Mass., by The Inquirer and Mirror, Inc. Second Class postage paid at the Post Office, Nantucket, Mass., 02554.

The Inquirer was established June 23, 1821, by Samuel Haynes Jenks. The Mirror was established by John Morrissey in 1845. The two papers were combined April 1, 1865, and published under the name of The Inquirer and Mirror. Roland B. Hussey was editor and publisher from 1887 to 1907. Published by Arthur H. Cook and Harry B. Turner from July 1, 1907 to September 5, 1925. From this time until March 1, 1948, it was owned, edited and published by Harry B. Turner. The Inquirer and Mirror was incorporated March 1, 1948 with Harry B. Turner continuing as editor until his death on November 9, 1948. From that time until August 9, 1958, the owners and editors were Merle Turner Orleans and Gordon B. Turner. The Inquirer and Mirror Publishing Company (Incorporated) was established August 10, 1958 with Robert Deeley owner and publisher and John Stackpole editor. George W. Morgan purchased The Inquirer and Mirror Publishing Company (Incorporated) in June 1962. It acquired The Town Crier on September 26, 1963. The name of the corporation was changed to The Inquirer and Mirror, Inc., pursuant to a certificate entitled Articles of Amendment, dated and executed September 23rd, 1964, and thereafter filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The Inquirer and Mirror was purchased from the estate of George W. Morgan, February 27, 1970, by Thomas H. C. and F. Marie Giffin, George A. Snell and Albert F. Egan, Jr., with F. Marie Giffin named as publisher and managing editor.

When P. T. Barnum Tried to Buy The Jaw of the Great Sperm Whale

ONE OF THE FEATURED attractions at the famous Nantucket Whaling Museum is the great sperm whale's jaw, which measures 18 feet in length and contains 44 teeth. It is not generally known that only a few years after it was brought to Nantucket aboard the whaleship Islander, under Captain William Cash, there was an offer for its purchase by the well known promoter Phineas T. Barnum, who wanted the extraordinary relic for his "Barnum's American Museum" in New York City. His letter, written in August, 1866, reads:

Captain Cash,

Dear Sir,

When I was at Nantucket recently, I called to see your Whale's Jaw. It is a stunner, and I was sorry I could not see the man who captured it. I hope you will carefully read the enclosed circular. Perhaps you will then feel that if the Jaw was properly placed in my Museum, and its history and your name legibly inscribed on it, more of your friends (as well as the great public) would see it, than they would on your own premises.

Perhaps, also, these considerations would induce you to hand your name down to a grateful posterity by being identified as the Donor of this Jaw to the Free Museum in New York.

However, if you don't see it in that light, will you please inform me whether you will sell it to be placed in my Museum and, if so, for what price.

& oblige,

Yours truly,

P. T. Barnum

Fortunately, Captain Cash decided not to accept the offer. Perhaps it was because he knew the background of how the jaw happened to become his property. The late Nancy Grant Adams, for many years the Curator of the Nantucket Historical Association, and also serving as its President, learned from Miss Emeline Christian, of Nantucket, that the jaw was actually from a huge sperm whale taken by one of the boats of the whaleship Niger, commanded by Mrs. Adams' father Captain Charles Grant — a whale harpooned by Miss Christian's father, James Christian.

A Reminder to Nantucket Merchants

Hi-

Nantucket Holiday here! Yep, it's that time of year again, do you believe it? Time to be thinking about your summer advertising.

I have a surprise for you; this year I am going to be located off-island as well as on! This means that for 13 consecutive weeks beginning the last week of June, I will be bringing my advertisers Cape and Island exposure. Just think of it, so many new places and faces. My sole purpose is to assist you, by acquainting businesses and prospective buyers. This year we are going all out!

Did you know that, because I am free to my readers, I will be read by at least 3 people per copy! Let's see: at 5,000 copies a week for 13 weeks, good heavens, that's 195,000 readers a summer, phew, just think what that could do for your business. Fantastic, isn't it? You'd better believe it.

Soon the summer visitors will be arriving. They seem to come earlier each year so it's time to think about getting your message to these wonderful people. Think seriously about including me, Nantucket Holiday, in your summer advertising budget. I'm the perfect solution to help make your summer more prosperous.
